GIBBONS SEES NO HOPE FOR PEACE IN EUROPE, HE WRITES

War, and War Alone, Will Satisfy the Italian Nation, He Thinks

DECISION'S BEEN MADE

Only Armed Intervention of Other Powers Will Stop Mussolini

ROME, Sept. 16—(INS)—Hello, everybody:

I have delayed writing this report for one week. For seven days I have hunted high and low for some slight ray of hope for peace in Europe. I have found none.

War, and war alone, will satisfy the Italian nation.

The decision has been made. The die is cast. There is no turning back.

Nothing will prevent the armies of Italy from invading Ethiopia. Unless it be the primitive warriors of the African King of Kings.

Italy has called an end to the days of parley, argument, discussion, and consultation.

Italy is determined she is not going to be talked out of this war, even by the League of Nations, by Great Britain or by the unimpeachable recommendations of peace advanced by America.

Only the armed intervention of other powers and possibly the outbreak of a general European war with world-wide repercussions, can possibly prevent Italy from attempting to realize her aims.

But such a possibility will not prevent Italy from making the attempt. No threat of financial or economic boycott and no threat of blocking the Suez Canal and no threat of aerial or naval interference with Italy's sealanes of communication will swerve Italy from her determination.

In other words, Italy announces to the world that this is her fight and she is prepared to go through with it and she hopes the world will keep out of it, but if there is any other nation—and she fears none from the smallest to the biggest—if there is any other nation or group of nations that want to get into this fight against Italy, then Italy feels she is capable of taking care of herself in that case as well.

Now a statement like that takes in a whole lot of territory; at least I thought so when it was handed to me from the highest possible source. To John Bull, recalling those days in August just twenty years ago, there is a lot of difference between the Italy of 1914 and today. Italy does not desire Britain's interference in her Abyssinian adventure and she does not believe Britain would go in against her at this time any more than Germany thought Britain would go in against Germany in 1914.

BRITAIN SEEKING TEST FOR HEALTH

Compulsory Examination Is Aim of the Advocates

BEFORE MARRIAGE

By Howard Berry
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 16—(INS)—Health tests and certificates of fitness for all persons before marriage is being strongly advocated in Britain.

A revolutionary scheme making the medical examination of couples before marriage compulsory in Britain is under examination by doctors in close co-operation with Public Health Societies.

All people about to marry, it is intended, will first have to obtain a certificate of fitness for marriage from a qualified medical practitioner.

These health certificates will be exchanged by engaged couples before marriage, and will have to be produced to the registrar or clergyman prior to the ceremony.

The scheme is revealed by Dr. C. Killick Millard, medical officer of health for Leicester, in his annual report. Dr. Millard urges that the British Medical Association shall draw up a certificate which will contain all the necessary particulars.

Dr. Millard is the man who caused a sensation in Britain by his advocacy of "euthanasia" or "easy death" for incurables.

The chief details of Dr. Millard's scheme are:

The introduction of an official form similar to a life insurance proposal form to be completed by both parties.

Medical examination to be undertaken by doctors at a standard fee; if possible $2.50, but certainly not more than $5.00.

The setting up of a special "Committee of Appeal" to consider the applications of people who have been refused certificates.

"First of all we want to educate public opinion," Dr. Millard declares. "Our ultimate aim will be to make the certificate of fitness for marriage compulsory, but to begin with we shall ask for a number of young couples who will volunteer to be examined."

"The question of compulsion will have to be very carefully deliberated and carried out."

"The Eugenic Society has already in preparation the form to be used."

"Special stress will be laid on the question of any hereditary constitutional defect in either party and any health defect which can be transmitted to husband or wife or to their offspring."

"The general state of health will also be considered, but is not of such vital importance as the possible transmission of disease."

"If the doctor declines to issue an A-1 certificate, then the case will be referred to a central committee, which would relieve the doctor of sole responsibility for such a serious decision."

The whole subject of these medical certificates, an official of the Eugenic Society revealed, is to be dealt with at the meeting of the Society in October. "The matter is arousing keen controversy throughout the country," he disclosed. Strong opinions are held on both sides. In Leicester itself, Dr. Millard's plan is warmly supported.

Strong support for Dr. Millard's scheme was forthcoming from Dr. Matthews, Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

Dr. Matthews said he saw no reason why the system should not be universal in a comparatively few years.

"I can offer no objection on religious grounds," he added.

Long Time Resident Dies At His Home Here

William E. Hendrickson, husband of the late Hannah R. Hendrickson, died on Saturday at his home here, 419 Jefferson avenue. He was 78 years of age, and had resided in Bristol for 25 years.

The survivors are one son, Edward Hendrickson; a daughter, Mrs. Roy Jenks and a niece, Mrs. Charles Huckvale.

Funeral services, to which relatives and friends are invited, will be conducted by the Rev. Paul R. Ronge at 2 o'clock tomorrow, from his late residence. Interment will be made in Bristol Cemetery under the direction of George Molden.

Friends may call this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennecoff, Farragut avenue, were guests of relatives in Atlantic City and Egg Harbor, N. J.

DEFEAT REVISION!

(Philadelphia Inquirer, Sept. 16, 1935)

The Guffey-Earle scheme to rewrite Pennsylvania's Constitution sets a new high-water mark in political piracy.

The underlying objective of the Democratic State machine in sponsoring revision is to seize autocratic control of Pennsylvania and make the taxpayers pay for it to the last penny.

Authority to change the basic law of the State is the first step in an effort to take the State from the people and place it in the strong-box of a partisan clique greedy for power and pillage.

That authority is asked of the voters in tomorrow's referendum.

The voters should not permit this issue to be clouded by the smokescreen of propaganda which has been thrown about it.

They should not be deceived by the misrepresentation, the lying attitude of pious public service used to disguise the real objectives in this drive for revision.

The Democratic campaign to mislead the people into selling their birthright so that a dynasty of despotism might be set up in Harrisburg has been a model of soft-soaping and soft-pedaling. But in spite of all the sugar-coating applied by professional soothsayers, it is still a bitter pill the Guffey-Earle machine is trying to cram down the throats of the people.

Guffey and Earle and their associates have been so desperately eager to get the machinery of revision started that they have given themselves away time and again. Their speeches in advocacy of revision, when analyzed, boil down to mere mouth-wash, unappetizing and unconvincing.

The joker, of course, is that they want the Constitution laid open to blanket revision, not for the sake of the people, but for their own political profit.

Moves under discussion to make judgeships appointive instead of elective, ripping judges from office throughout the State and creating a controlled judiciary; moves to abolish such elective offices as State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs—lessening checkmates on the executive; to rescind the Legislature's three-reading provision so that laws might be steam-rollered to passage overnight without public hearing; to establish a pocket-size Legislature, eliminating the independent-minded Senate—and this has been under consideration despite what has been permitted to appear on the surface; all these have but one motivation, to centralize and entrench the power of the Guffey-Earle machine and its order-takers in the State Capitol.

Nothing in the record, the aims or the accomplishments of the Earle Administration can show the slightest evidence of any intention to decrease taxation. The reverse is true. The Governor has evinced a determination from the outset of his term to force tax after tax upon the over-burdened backs of our people. Only the refusal of the Senate to accept his exorbitant tax program in full prevented imposition of some $80,000,000 in added taxes at the last session of the Legislature. A new Constitution built to his order would make it possible for him to skyrocket taxation to produce any fantastic amount of revenue that the Guffey-Earle machine might deem desirable for spending its way further into power.

The lure held out by the Governor that Constitutional revision might, by some unexplained miracle, relieve taxation, and particularly real estate taxation, is bait that no thinking person should swallow. There is no possible guarantee that the revenues from a graded income tax or any other tax legalized by Constitutional revision would be used to reduce school taxes placed on property.

Even if it were agreed that each county would be allocated a certain proportion of the return from an income or other tax, for the sole purpose of relieving real estate levies, the benefit

KINDERGARTEN GROUP TO CHANGE HEADQUARTERS

AT LUTHERAN CHURCH

The St. Ann's A. A., former meeting place for the kindergarten of the S. R. C., will no longer be the meeting place for this group. The kindergarten group will meet at Zion Lutheran Church, Jefferson avenue and Wood street, daily, starting today, except Saturday. Sessions will be between the hours of 9 and 12 a. m., and 1 and 4 p. m. The primary department of the church has an adequate room, and equipment for work of this kind.

The kindergarten is absolutely free to the people of Bristol and vicinity. It is a W. D. project, and should be of interest to parents of the community. Children between the ages of four and six are eligible. All interested in sending their children are asked to kindly get in touch with Miss Dora Thompson, S. R. C. leader, at the Lutheran Church between 9 and 12 or 1 and 4 daily except Saturday.

There will be two separate groups in order to accommodate more children. One group will meet in the morning, 9 to 12, and the other in the afternoon, 1 to 4 period. Children may attend either the morning or afternoon sessions.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSESSOR

I wish to advise all Republican voters in the First Ward, Bristol Borough, that I am a candidate for renomination on the Republican ticket as real estate assessor in said ward.

MULFORD L. CALLANAN.

SMILE BROADER THAN EVER

Daniel Ferry, well known and smiling Bristol patrolman, is wearing a smile broader than ever, since last Friday, when a daughter arrived at the Ferry home on Pine street.

Vote Against Revision

Vote against the revision of the Constitution at the Primary Election, tomorrow.

Every qualified voter, whether registered under the designation of any political party or not, is privileged to vote at the primaries, tomorrow for or against a Convention to revise Pennsylvania's Constitution.

Shall a constitutional convention be called in accordance with, and subject to, the limitations contained in act number 212 of the one thousand nine hundred thirty-five session of the Legislature to prepare a new or revised Constitution of this Commonwealth?	Yes	No <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
--	-----	--

In cases where the voter is not registered under a party with candidates in the primary election, he will be given only the ballot carrying the Constitutional Revision question.

VOTERS TOMORROW TO NAME PARTY CANDIDATES

Vote at Primary Election is Expected To Be Heavy One

POLLS OPEN AT 8 A. M.

Voters of both the Republican and Democratic parties, tomorrow will go to the polls for the purpose of selecting their respective party candidates, who will be their standard bearers at the general election in November.

In addition to naming the candidates for the general election in November, the voters will vote for or against holding a constitutional convention.

The question of holding a constitutional convention will be voted for on a separate ballot and this ballot may be voted by a qualified voter, whether or not he is registered under a party affiliation. But non-registered voters will receive only the constitutional ballot.

The polling places will be open from eight a. m. until 8 p. m., daylight time.

Two of the polling places in Bristol have been changed and voters of the third ward are advised that they will vote in the show room, 508 Bath street, next to the Wright Service Garage.

Voters in the Sixth Ward, second precinct, will vote in Karp's store, 1834 Farragut avenue, instead of at what was formerly Karp's store, on Hayes street.

Candidates will be nominated by each party for the two supreme court vacancies to be filled in November, nomination of one candidate by each party for the single vacancy on the superior court to be filled in November and then nomination of local candidates, one from each ward for borough council, assessor and constable. Then in addition there will be district election officers to be nominated by each of the parties; members of the school board and a justice of the peace.

For county office there are candidates for sheriff, registrar of wills, county treasurer, recorder of deeds, clerk of orphans court, clerk of quarter sessions, two for county commissioner, one for coroner, two for director of the poor, one for county auditor, and one for county surveyor.

WATERMELON PARTY

A group of young people held a watermelon party Friday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Morrell, Emilie. A merry evening was enjoyed by the Misses Rita McGinley, Arline and Verna Woolman, Helen Doyle and Ethel Snyder; Vincent Pasceri, James Rue, Joseph Flatch, Fred Bell, Jr., William Rasmussen, Ralph Voit, Bristol; Warren Bruce, Emilie; and Andy Leonetti, Philadelphia.

Italy Likely To Quit League

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 16—With the League of Nations pessimistically forecasting Italy's withdrawal by Thursday, Eamon De Valera, head of the Irish Free State, today delivered an impassioned appeal to the League Assembly urging the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel be settled before blood is shed rather than after. Plainly referring to Italy and Ethiopia, but not mentioning names, De Valera said, "Must we wait until the wronged has risen up in armed revolt before we grant him redress to which we know he is entitled?"

"Why, if the problems are economic and it is fear of withholding essential raw materials that is causing alarm, why cannot these questions and their relations to colonial possession be discussed now, or will our conservatism consent and deem the time ripe only when the slaughter has begun?"

Probe Likely To End

West Chester, Sept. 16—Unless new evidence is uncovered, a coroner's jury this week will ring down the curtain on the tragic final scene in the career of glamorous Evelyn Hoey, beautiful golden-haired screen, stage and radio star. The jury, authorities today agreed, will have no alternative but to declare the 25 year old Broadway torch-singer a suicide.

Meanwhile, however, investigators continued their relentless probe of events of last Wednesday night when a pistol shot shattered the actress's skull in the farm house of Henry Huddleston Rogers, Jr., near Downingtown. On the surface at least, there was but one week-end development. It came when Rogers, blacksheep scion of Standard Oil millions, and play-boy friend of the dead girl, vanished from a fashionable retreat at Wernersville where he and his mother, Mrs. Benjamin Rogers, had vainly sought seclusion. Both Rogers and his friend, William J. Kelley, a free lance photographer of New York, are at liberty on $2500 bond for appearance at the coroner's inquest to be held late this week.

EDGELY

The first in a series of card parties to be sponsored by the Edgely School Association will be held on Tuesday evening at the school building. Many prizes will be on display, and the association is planning a worthwhile prize to be given at the end of the year to the person attaining the highest score. Pinocchio will be played. Mrs. Ray Moon is chairwoman.

Mrs. George Oakes, Somerville, N. J., is making an indefinite stay with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Smyrl.

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Dea had as Sunday dinner guests, Mrs. Hilda Wunsch, daughter, Betty Jane and son, Albert, South Langhorne.

Miss Madeline Summers, Morrisville, was the guest Saturday and Sunday of the Misses Elizabeth and Gertrude Kuiper.

Fifteen Tables Filled At C. D. A. Card Party

The Catholic Daughters of America held a card party Saturday evening in the Knights of Columbus home, Radcliffe street. There were 15 tables of players, and pinocchio and "500" were enjoyed. Prizes were awarded.

Highest scores were attained by: Francis Hotele, 797; A. Barnfield, 774; Mrs. E. Powers, 773; W. Armstrong, 769; Miss Katharine Dugan, 752; Mrs. P. McGonigle, 4100; Miss Hester Boyle, 3999; E. Itshel, 3850; Mrs. E. H. McCurry, 3770; Miss Regina McIlvaine, 3370.

Refreshments were served.

ICY PERIL IN SUMMER

DURANGO, Colo. — (INS) — Claude Lancaster, 18, son of a Clovis, N. M., physician, had a narrow escape from freezing to death in summer when he slipped and fell 50 feet down Purkator falls, 35 miles north of here. He pulled himself from the icy waters but was unable to move from the bank until found, half-frozen, by fishing companions.

SEVEN MEET DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENTS DURING WEEK-END

Six Relatives Killed When Train Hits Auto at Churchville Crossing

MOTORCYCLIST KILLED

Crashes Into Automobile About Eight Miles From Doylestown

Seven motorists were killed in Bucks County during the week-end. Six relatives lost their lives when the machine in which they were riding was struck by a train at a grade crossing at Churchville, Saturday afternoon. The seventh fatality occurred when a motorcyclist crashed into an automobile near Doylestown, last evening.

The dead:

Otto Schoenfeld, 51, Joyce avenue, South Langhorne, superintendent of Fred Rumpf Sons' tapestry mill, South Langhorne.

Mabelle Johnson Schoenfeld, 48, his wife.

Miss Marguerite Schoenfeld, 28, their daughter, a nurse at a Philadelphia hospital.

George Gaul, 70, Payson avenue, Audubon, N. J., a foreman at the Camden plant of the New York Shipbuilding Company.

Mrs. Ella D. Gaul, 69, his wife.

Mrs. Jennie B. Countryman, 41, wife of Joseph Countryman, Oaklyn, N. J.

Edwin Schaffer, 24, of Coplay, who met death in the crash yesterday, near Doylestown.

The six relatives were enroute to a family reunion when their machine, operated by Mr. Gaul, ran into the path of a Reading Railroad flyer, which it is stated was slowing up near the Churchville station. Mrs. Gaul is the mother of Mrs. Schoenfeld and Mrs. Countryman. The six were all well-known in this vicinity, the Schoenfeld family residing all of their lives in Hulmeville and South Langhorne. Mrs. Gaul and Mrs. Countryman also formerly resided in Hulmeville.

Funeral service for the six will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at the Horner funeral home, Langhorne, at two o'clock. This service, which will be strictly private, will be the Episcopal service for the dead, with the Rev. James C. Gilbert, rector of Grace P. E. Church, Hulmeville, officiating. At Beechwood Cemetery the bodies of the six members of one family will be slowly lowered as the Rev. Gilbert conducts the committal service. The six will be buried side by side in two plots.

Relatives and friends may call at the Horner funeral home this evening between seven and nine o'clock. The six caskets are being arranged in the two funeral parlors there; and six hearses will be used for the funeral tomorrow.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Schoenfeld were baptised members of Grace Church; and their daughter, Marguerite, was a communicant member. Mrs. Gaul and also Mrs. Countryman had in years past attended services at that edifice, when they resided here. Mrs. Schoenfeld was a member of the church choir.

In addition to his son, Franz Schoenfeld, South Langhorne, Mr. Schoenfeld is survived by one sister, Miss Lena Schoenfeld; and three brothers, Alvin, Adolph and Oscar Schoenfeld, all of Hulmeville. Mrs. Schoenfeld has one brother remaining, W. H. Johnson, also of Hulmeville.

Franz Schoenfeld, the only survivor in the one family, enabled authorities to identify the victims, whose bodies were badly mangled.

The locomotive carried the sedan along the railroad track for 40 yards and then cast it aside, a tangled mass of wreckage. The train had left the Reading Terminal, Philadelphia, at 1.16 p. m., daylight time, with Frank Rook, Newtown, as engineer. He was bringing his train into the Churchville station, a quarter mile past the grade crossing, at 2.10 when the crash happened. Rook is a brother of James Rook, engineer of a train that collided with another in 1919, killing 21 persons. John Sanders, of Philadelphia, was fireman of the train and N. Taylor, of Philadelphia, conductor.

The automobile had crossed a highway that parallels the railroad track a short distance before the grade crossing is reached. It is believed the driver may have been watching the highway crossing unaware of the danger of the approaching train.

The company said its report shows the train was traveling 40 miles an hour. The crossing is not protected by gates but there are standard cross-buck signs and advance warning signs, the company said.

PREPARE FOR YOUR VOCATION—Hundreds of bright young men are graduating from high schools and colleges. In a few years some of them will be leaders in great industrial projects. PRINTING AND JOURNALISM are among America's greatest industries. To those whose talents and ambitions qualify them for entrance, the EMPIRE STATE SCHOOL OF PRINTING offers a comprehensive course in technique and informative subjects relating to the industry. The Empire State School of Printing is not a commercialized "trade school". It is an educational institution, founded and supported by State and National Newspaper Publishers' Associations for the advancement of the industry. Here knowledge is acquired and skills developed in the fundamentals of printing and journalism by teaching methods, which experience proves must supersede the old apprenticeship system of training. Write John W. Baker, Director, for complete information, giving your own educational background and experience. Address: 440 W. State St., Ithaca, N. Y.

SEED-PACKERS SPLIT TWO CLOSE BALL GAMES

The D. Landreth Seed Company's baseball nine split two close games over the week-end, losing to the Bacharach Giants, of Atlantic City, Saturday, on Leedom's field, 1-0, and winning from Stonehurst Hill, 2-1, yesterday at Stonehurst.

Saturday's tilt was a beautiful hurling duel between "Slim" Buchanan, of the Giants, and "Eddie" Sullivan, of the Seed-Packers. Sullivan pitched one of the best games of his career. He limited the colored aggregation to four hits and after the second was invincible. Buchanan went one better and allowed but three hits. Sullivan whiffed five, while the colored twirler was credited with six strike-outs.

DEFEAT REVISION!

received by the real estate owner would be microscopic in comparison with the loss he would sustain through the income taxation. He would figuratively pay a dollar with one hand and receive a dime with the other. Simple arithmetic would quickly show the fallacy of the argument that real estate can expect any material relief in this way.

A new Constitution would abolish present restrictions placed on borrowing by the State, restrictions which Harrisburg's easy spenders of other people's money find irksome. They want to change the Constitution so they can borrow as much as they please whenever they please, regardless of the crushing tax burden this borrowing would create, regardless of the fact that they would be selling the State down the river into years of servitude to debt.

Given revision as it wants it, the Guffey-Earle machine would set up in Pennsylvania a dictatorship equal to anything Huey Long ever dreamed of. Governor Earle wants revision so he can be as untrammelled in his authority as President Roosevelt and New Ordeal—which has cost in three years only $300,000,000 less than was spent by the Government in the first 124 years of its history.

Revision is the Open Sesame by which the Democratic State machine hopes to have placed in its hands all-powerful, self-perpetuating control of Pennsylvania.

If you want this State ruled by a political dictatorship vote YES on Constitutional revision tomorrow.

If you want to safeguard rule by the people, vote NO.

DANGER AHEAD!

In the Primary that will be held throughout Pennsylvania on Tuesday, September 17th, the most costly Administration in the history of this Commonwealth, for its own partisan, political advantage, will ask the people of this State to abandon their present Constitution in favor of one which would radically change the form of government in Pennsylvania.

The issue will be put squarely up to every voter in the form of a question upon a special ballot. You will be asked to vote YES or NO to a Constitutional Convention. Reduced to its simplest terms, the question is whether—

- (1) We shall retain our present Constitution, which for more than 60 years has kept this State out of debt and assured the people of Pennsylvania the widest latitude of self-government, with the largest degree of home rule—the American System; or
- (2) We shall substitute the kind of a Constitution demanded by this Administration, which would divest the people of Pennsylvania of many important rights now reserved to them, and perpetuate the present Administration in office, with unlimited authority to borrow upon the public credit, raise taxes, destroy home rule, and concentrate all powers in the Governor and a single-branch Legislature under his control.

The Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, the State Grange, the State Chamber of Commerce, numerous patriotic and fraternal organizations, and many thousands of individuals, are opposing the proposed Convention and new Constitution, for the following among many reasons:

1. The announced purpose is to bring the Constitution of Pennsylvania into line with the New Deal, whose costly experiments have piled up an unprecedented public debt, retarded recovery and are in conflict with the Constitution of the United States and the American form of government.
2. To further centralize all power and authority in Harrisburg, it is proposed to abolish the State Senate (which slashed more than 78 millions from the Governor's program for 203 millions of new taxes) and create a single legislative body subservient to the Executive.
3. Under the plan for consolidating local political units, Home Rule, as now carried out through local governments, administered by local officers, responsible only to the people, largely would disappear from Pennsylvania.
4. The Legislature would have power to abolish the Grand Jury, allow criminal indictments merely upon information, and provide for convictions upon less than a unanimous verdict by a jury.
5. The Legislature would have power to bring any branch of business or industry under complete State regulation; to go into the housing business; to charter and subsidize corporations to compete with private enterprise in housing projects; to consolidate and supervise local relief and charitable agencies; and to set up unemployment relief as a permanent dole in Pennsylvania.
6. A Governor, stumping the State as the chief exponent of a new Constitution, whose outstanding features would be the right of the Governor to succeed himself, and the removal of all limit on borrowing power, tells the story of this proposed revision. The assertion that the present Constitutional limit on borrowing requires a new Constitution is utterly without basis, first, because the Supreme Court has ruled that millions may be borrowed for any emergency upon a note issue against anticipated revenue, once the Legislature has provided for that revenue; second, because there is no provision in the present Constitution which cannot be changed by an amendment approved by the people of Pennsylvania.
7. Our Constitution is the basis of our whole social, political and economic structure, and every dictate of wisdom warns against completely rewriting it in any period of economic unrest and political instability such as exists at the present time. And especially is that true when the chief advocates of this revision would provide for waste and extravagance without limit, at a time when every need cries out for reducing the costs of government and keeping new taxes to a minimum.
8. While proponents of a new Constitution have baited their hook with "Social Security," exactly the same results can be obtained by an amendment of the existing Constitution; but we believe that the kind of social security every self-respecting Pennsylvanian wants is that which is to be had from industrial recovery resulting from the removal of governmental interference with business, thus providing good jobs at good wages, and the ability of each to provide for self and family, free of Federal, State or local charity.

This dangerous proposal is being advocated by the self-interested, free-spending, tax-raising Administration at Harrisburg as a means of continuing itself in office, with free access to the public credit.

The Day to Defeat it is Tuesday, September 17th

THE WAY TO DEFEAT IT IS TO VOTE ON YOUR SPECIAL BALLOT AS INDICATED OPPOSITE

Shall a constitutional convention be called in accordance with and subject to the limitations contained in Act No. 212 of the one thousand nine hundred thirty-five session of the Legislature to prepare a new or revised Constitution of this Commonwealth?
